- 5 June 'Contemporary Byelorussian writers in Poland', Dr Shirin Akiner

It was especially gratifying to see two new lecturers, John Sallnow of Plymouth Polytechnic and Mikoła Paŭłoŭski, formerly a member of the BSSR Artists' Union and now permanently resident in Paris. Thanks are once again due to the Librarian of the Francis Skaryna Library for allowing the Society to use a room for its lectures and, more pertinently, for unstintingly providing food and drink after the lectures.

The Society is indebted to the Byelorussian Charitable Trust for its continuing financial support. The income and expenditure account as on 31 March 80 showed a deficit of £18, with income at £2,005 and expenditure at £2,023. The heaviest single item of expenditure was for the publication of the most recent issue of the Journal of Byelorussian Studies. Members of the Society will of course be eager to see the Journal continue to play its vital role of extending our knowledge of Byelorussia, in spite of the rising costs of paper and printing.

In concluding I should like to express my thanks to the members of the Council, to the Editorial Board of the Journal, especially Peter Mayo and to all our lecturers and hosts for helping us to continue our activities so successfully.
